In occasion of the snap election in the UK we offer our clients a conference call on the day following the vote. Stéphane Junod, Chief Investment Officer Wealth Management EMEA and Markus Müller, Global Head of Chief Investment Office will analyse the sentiment after the election and sketch out a few likely scenarios of how the result may play out in the near future. Further they will offer our view on the outcome's possible effects on financial markets.

We hope that you can join this call, which aims to provide a succinct analysis of the election's impact on European markets.
